S'more Cookies, Please

In the days leading up to Christmas, we opened our doors to friends, families, and potential future residents. This Open House was extra sweet, featuring a cookie bar full of our favorites, plus some ooey, gooey s'mores! Guests mingled, munched on treats, and listened to live music by The Virginians Chorus.

Comfort & Joy

Joanie Wilson does a final count for our Stocking Stuffer project benefiting Hilliard House families.

Bick Bickerstaff shows off his faux gingerbread house. It may not be edible, but it sure is bright!

One of the best things about being a community that feels like family is that we can embrace the holidays and one another with unbridled joy! In that spirit, our residents enjoyed holiday concerts, crafts, Christmas trees, community service projects, good food, eggnog, and so much more. December was full of laughter, smiles, and memories that we'll cherish in the years to come.

Bingo-ing into the New Year

In preparation for our annual Holiday Bazaar, residents were busy producing a variety of goods to sell. One of our favorites was a collection of handmade artisanal bar soaps, foaming hand soaps, and room sprays. Not only did they look amazing, but they smelled divine!
